SCHOOLS.

Chapter 186 repeals Sections 197, 203, 207, and enacts the following Sections in lieu thereof:

13. All powers, rights, and privileges lawfully exercised by any Board of Commissioners, any Judges of Orphans' Courts, any trustees of primary schools, or any other person or persons, by whatever name designated, by virtue of any act or acts of the General Assembly of Maryland, passed in relation to public, primary or free schools, and all moneys, property, estates and effects heretofore vested by law in any of the said parties heretofore mentioned, respectively, for the use and benefit of said schools, or any of them, and all rights to, and interests in all funds of whatever kind dedicated to the support of said schools, or any of them, and by law made payable to any of the parties hereinbefore mentioned, are transferred and vested in the board of commissioners of public schools of Cecil county.

14. The board of commissioners of public schools shall establish at least three high schools or academies, in Cecil county, to be located as follows: One at Elkton, one at Port Deposit, and one at Rising Sun, in said county, and whenever they shall deem proper, at such other places in said county, as they may
